We begin by giving, where possible, the destinations of those boys who are going on to other schools. The list shows the problem which confronted the Headmaster, and it is impossible adequately to thank his fellow Headmasters, who have so generously helped him to solve it.

The ordinary Valete list of boys who are leaving School will be found in its usual place in the Magazine.

Pilgrim, B. M. Reynolds, D. J. Robertson, R. A. B. Russell, G. J. Sargent, H. V. C. Stephens, S. J. Taylor, J. C. Wade, K. B. Williams, N. M. Williams, T. S. Woodrow, C. J. Wroughton, C. J. Weston.

We deeply regret to record the death of Andrew T. Martin (Acon, 1954-58). A most promising career has been cut short at the age of fifteen. Two years ago Andrew Martin was attacked by a deadly disease, but with great courage he insisted on attending School during his better periods: when he was compelled to return to hospital, his cheerfulness inspired all the patients in his ward. Throughout his illness he was kept in touch with School affairs by two of the leaders of his House, and we all join them in sending a message of sincere sympathy to his parents.
